

Case Study: Precision in logistical processing.

CRS medical offers medical technology services throughout the world. From development of its own products to data management solutions and service and support for companies, CRS medical collaborates with your customers on an individual basis. GO! offers logistics support and thus guarantees maximum flexibility.

The medical technology industry is constantly growing on both a national and international level. Whether it's technical equipment for diagnostics and intensive care or solutions for home care, patients expect the highest level of medical treatment.

The company based in Aßlar, Lower Hesse, supplies customers, product manufacturers and trade organisations in the medical technology industry across the world. In addition to hospitals in Germany, Poland, Switzerland, Austria, Luxembourg and Belgium, rescue organisations are also part of the target group of CRS medical. Around 150 employees ensure that everything runs smoothly and guarantee optimal quality, as the entire service spectrum is based on a certified quality assurance system.

Rapid supply of replacement parts through emergency storage

Highly sensitive medical products require professional, secure delivery. CRS medical has placed its trust in GO! Express & Logistics for its complete logistics concept since 2010. The premium logistics service provider specialises in the medical technology industry and its own quality management system has also been adapted to the processes and infrastructures of hospitals and medical practices. Based on its years of experience in the industry, processes were firmly established across the entire GO! network. This ensures the precise transportation of over 2,500 consignments per month, be it via overnight delivery or international consignments. We also carry out around 75 courier trips per month as well as inventory management with monthly stock-taking at 18 locations at present. This relates to the emergency storage for replacement part deliveries, carried out via courier to Germany, Austria, Switzerland, France, Spain and Poland 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. "With GO!, we have a complete logistics package for the shipment of medical equipment. In the case of any issues or changes at short notice, we have a personal point of contact whom we can turn to," says Birgit Barnusch, department head at CRS medical. In the future, we will focus on expanding international tracking and continuously improving the efficiency of our business processes.
